

BLUE RIDGE
ANARCHIST BLACK CROSS

POLITICAL PRISONER LETTER WRITING

Sunday,
Jan 5th
5 - 7pm

Firestorm
Books, Coffee & Community
610 Haywood Rd, WAVL

TROUBLE

FILM SCREENING

TROUBLE 23 - PRELUDE TO A DISASTER

Every day the news gets worse. Millions of people are displaced by record-breaking heatwaves and droughts, violent mega-storms and flash floods. Unprecedented wildfires burn out of control, scorching massive tracts of forest and brush, and plunging nearby urban metropolises into surreal scenes of mid-afternoon darkness. Meanwhile, scientists solemnly inform us that marine life could be wiped out by mid-century, as the oceans continue to be gradually transformed from vibrant areas of rich biodiversity into the plastic-filled graveyards of industrial civilization. Try as we might... the consequences of our consequence-free lifestyles are becoming harder and harder to ignore. In Trouble 23, subMedia takes a closer look at these dynamics, arguing for the importance of taking bold action to defend local bioregions, even as we work towards the total overthrow and replacement of the global capitalist economy.

DATE Fri, Jan 3 LOCATION Firestorm
6:30pm Books, Coffee & Community

Trouble is a monthly show offering in-depth anarchist analysis of current struggles, tactics and movement dynamics. The films broadcast first-hand accounts and perspectives from organizers on the ground, with the aim of cutting through the fog of misinformation that often clouds our understanding of the world, and provoking people into taking bold, collective action

SUB.MEDIA

BLUE RIDGE

ANARCHIST BLACK CROSS

POLITICAL PRISONER
LETTER WRITING

Sunday,
Jan 5th
5 - 7pm

Firestorm

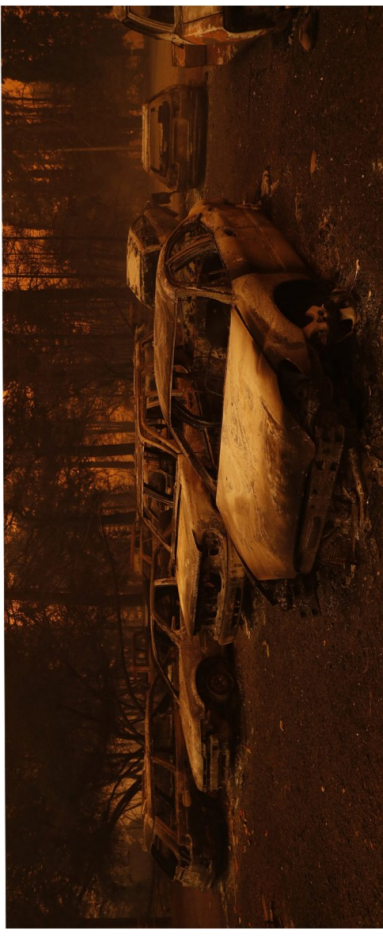

Books, Coffee & Community

610 Haywood Rd, WYVU

TROUBLE FILM SCREENING

TROUBLE 23 - PRELUDE TO A DISASTER

Every day the news gets worse. Millions of people are displaced by record-breaking heatwaves and droughts, violent mega-storms and flash floods. Unprecedented wildfires burn out of control, scorching massive tracts of forest and brush, and plunging nearby urban metropolises into surreal scenes of mid-afternoon darkness. Meanwhile, scientists solemnly inform us that marine life could be wiped out by mid-century, as the oceans continue to be gradually transformed from vibrant areas of rich biodiversity into the plastic-filled graveyards of industrial civilization. Try as we might... the consequences of our consequence-free lifestyles are becoming harder and harder to ignore. In Trouble 23, subMedia takes a closer look at these dynamics, arguing for the importance of taking bold action to defend local bioregions, even as we work towards the total overthrow and replacement of the global capitalist economy.

DATE Fri, Jan 3 LOCATION Firestorm
6:30pm
 Books, Coffee & Community

 Trouble is a monthly show offering in-depth anarchist analysis of current struggles, tactics and movement dynamics. The films broadcast first-hand accounts and perspectives from organizers on the ground, with the aim of cutting through the fog of misinformation that often clouds our understanding of the world, and provoking people into taking bold, collective action

SUB.MEDIA